

GRAND ROUNDS

Celebrating some of our favourite people...

Volunteers representing every program at Renfrew Victoria Hospital were on hand for the Volunteer Luncheon on April 12 at Trinity St. Andrew's United Church in Renfrew.

The theme of this year's celebration, held during National Volunteer Week, was the infamous musical, The Sound of Music. Guests were treated to brown paper bags tied up with string, that contained a few of their favourite things as a token of appreciation for their dedication to enhancing patient care.

"As the backbone of the Renfrew Victoria Hospital, we are incredibly grateful for the enormous contributions our volunteers make to the hospital and the Foundation. A heartfelt thank you to each and every one of you," said Sarah Robinson, Foundation Executive Director.

Randy Penney, RVH President and CEO, concluded a short report on hospital investments with a message of appreciation for volunteers as well.

He noted that the efforts and investments by RVH and partners, such as the volunteers who were present, "make a huge difference for patients and families and help to ensure seamless care."

"On behalf of management, staff and physicians, thank you for all that you do for RVH."

Shauna Lemenchick, RVH Auxiliary President, looks on as members present cheques for the third installment towards the $250,000 pledge for the RVH Auxiliary Solarium: Dodie Bailey, $8,000 from the HELPP Break Open Ticket Lottery Funds; Doris Handford, $16,824 from General Funds; and Nel Lansbergen, $23,000 from the Gift Shop Funds. Including $2,176 raised from the Fair Raffle, the Auxiliary's financial contribution this year totalled $50,000.

Members of the Bluegrass Festival / Healing Garden Committee shared a table.

Kelly Hebert, RVH Health, Safety and Infection Control Coordinator, serves Barb Moogk and Barb Hollywood, who volunteer with the Meals on Wheels program.

Janice Verch-Whittington serves Barbara Roy and Josie Prince, who both work in the Auxiliary gift shop.

For more information, contact the Foundation at 613-432-4851 ext. 263