

GRAND ROUNDS

RVHF's Masters lottery back by popular demand

You have another chance to win the trip of a lifetime while supporting our local hospital.

Tickets are on sale once again for the Renfrew Victoria Hospital Foundation's popular PGA Masters raffle for the April 2019 event. You and a guest could be going to Augusta for the final two rounds of The Masters.

Last year's winners Mike and Barb Asselin highly recommend trying your luck in the RVHF draw for these most sought-after tickets.

"The experience was a once-in-a-lifetime, bucket list item that every golfer must experience, and we feel so fortunate to get entry to the most exclusive sporting ticket in the world. We met so many nice people from England, Australia, Alaska, South Korea..." report the Asselins.

"It is difficult to put the experience into words but in summary, the trip exceeded all of our expectations and we feel we are so fortunate to have had the opportunity to experience the Masters in person and have many thanks to the Renfrew Victoria Hospital Foundation."

A limited number of tickets are available at the RVH Foundation office for $50 each. There's also a chance to win second prize of $2,500 or third prize of $1,500 cash.

"Not only have we increased the odds of winning this year, but we are also including a travel voucher for the grand prize winner," notes Sarah Robinson, RVH Foundation Executive Director. "Proceeds will help the Foundation to fund vital healthcare equipment that is not funded through the government so patients have access to the greatest healthcare available, close to home."
